

U.S. Fires First Atomic Shell

THE SCHOOL BOARD is making plans to hold classes in only one of its two schools now under construction when the fall term of school opens next September. The contractor has informed them the other building won't be ready for students until about a month later.

The building expected to be ready when the fall term rolls around is Jefferson school, in the northwest section of the city. The board has been told that the first floor of Washington school, the other new building, could be occupied at the same time but that the rest of the building would still have workmen busy in it.

ALTHOUGH THE board has not gone on record in vetoing use of the first floor until the rest of the building is completed, sources close to members of the board don't expect the building to be used until the anticipated October completion date of the whole building.

Both buildings were to be completed by July 1 of this year, according to terms of the contracts. But the board isn't holding the contractor rigidly to those terms because of a delay in receiving some building materials, which became scarce because of stepped-up defense production.

THE DEKALB balloting in the school referendum there last week didn't provide the "trial horse" on public sentiment toward teacher salary boosts which observers here had looked for, but the DeKalb results aren't being written off as completely valueless to the Dixon scene.

While DeKalb voters returned puzzling results in the referendum to increase the tax rates in the elementary and high school districts, they perhaps had puzzling statements of the proposition they were to vote on. The same proposition—that of boosting tax rates—was stated on two ballots given voters in the high school district and on two ballots given voters in the grade school district.

Thus most voters—since most live in both the high school and elementary districts—received four ballots when there was only two propositions to be considered, that of increasing the tax in the elementary district and that of increasing the tax in the high school district.

DEKALB OFFICIALS tell us that the proposition in each district was stated twice—only slightly different wording was used—because two laws in the state school code applied to the referendum. As a result, legal advice obtained before the referendum had recommended that the proposition in each district would have to be stated twice to be on the safe side of adhering to requirements set forth in each of the two laws.

The upshot of stating the proposition was a vote favoring a hike in the tax rate in the squares following one of the statements—and a vote defeating the proposal in the squares following the other statement of the proposition.

According to our contacts in the DeKalb, effects of the one vote total canceling the other are expected to be the same as if the proposal to boost the tax had been defeated soundly on all ballots.

DIXON GROUPS considering placing a referendum on the same issue before the public here had awaited the DeKalb referendum eagerly to see how a similar public reacted to increasing the school tax. Those same observers after the election felt the results inconclusive because of the apparent inconsistency in the vote.

But now they declare the DeKalb vote will have served as a warning in the event the proposition will have to be stated twice in any referendum here.

Teenager Fined $200 After Leading Sheriff in Chase

A Lee county teenager was fined $200 and costs on two separate charges of failing to stop at a stop sign in Franklin Grove Sunday night.

Rodney Eden, 19, who resides at the intersection of Rts. 30 and 51, led Lee County Sheriff Charles Redebaugh on a wild chase through Franklin Grove and vicinity before he was arrested.

According to the sheriff, Eden drove at speeds estimated at 90 miles an hour in his attempt to get away after Redebaugh first spotted him running the stop sign.

Eden went through the same stop sign twice as he weaved throughout Franklin Grove with the sheriff in pursuit.

He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Edwin Merrick, Dixon, following his apprehension.

Sheriff Redebaugh recommended that the teenager be fined the maximum amount allowed by law in that he forced at least one car off the road during the wild ride.

Other arrests made Sunday afternoon by Sheriff Redebaugh involved two Sterling men who were charged with disorderly conduct.

David S. Wise, 54, and Harry Theilen, 43, both of Sterling, were each fined $10 and costs when they pleaded guilty to the charge before Merrick after being arrested for drinking on a public highway and having an open container of beer in the car.

The arrest was made on a gravel road in Nelson township near the Rock Island road. Merrick said that Redebaugh claimed to have had complaints of several in-

Student Found Dead After Brawl; Hold Another Youth

CHICAGO—A Morgan Park Military Academy graduate was found dead in his car after a brawl early today and state police squads later seized a university student who was charged with manslaughter. The victim was Robert Duboise.

18, of Blue Island, who returned home with his mother Thursday after staying in Glendale, Calif., for a year.

His mother, Mrs. Bonita Duboise, signed a manslaughter complaint against Marcell (Buster) White, 18, of Lockport, a student at DePaul university.

Police said witnesses gave them this version of the fight: Duboise had gone out with Thomas Radeke, 19, of Blue Island, and Carlos McNab, 18, in a farewell party for Radeke, scheduled to enter the Navy.

They bought eight bottles of beer, which they drank in a drive-

Pilot Battles Storm, Lands Plane in Field Near Oregon

Chiropractor Suffers Cuts And Bruises

Two Other Planes in Flight in Emergency Landings at Rochelle

OREGON—(Special)—An airplane crash was among several traffic accidents, all others involving autos, which injured five persons over the week-end in Ogle county.

Dr. Richard Cable, 31, chiropractor with offices in Freeport and Forrester, suffered a head injury and injury to the right knee cap when his airplane nosed over in an emergency landing during a storm Sunday.

Cable, piloting one of five airplanes en route from Hamilton field, Polo, to Sycamore when a storm blew up, brought his cub trainer down in a field about three miles west and a mile north of Kings.

The propeller and a wing were damaged extensively. The accident occurred on the Edna Cleveland farm.

Cable, who is not related to Dixon residents of the same name, was taken to Freeport for treatment. Sheriff James White investigated.

Two Others Safe
Two other planes in the flight found safe emergency landing at the Rochelle airport. The fifth plane also was reported safe.

In highway accidents, three Ogle county youths were admitted to St. Francis hospital, Freeport, after their car overturned at 1 a.m. Sunday on a blacktop road 2½ miles north of Leaf River.

They were:
Tom Carr, 19, Oregon, driver of the auto, who suffered cuts and bruises; George Rosenbalm, 21, also of Oregon, who received injuries to the pelvis, and Larry Cramer, Mt. Morris, cuts about the head and bruises.

Their northbound car failed to round a corner. The auto was demolished.

Two Injured
A second car which failed to round a curve Sunday resulted in injuries to two Chicago residents, both patients today in Warmolts clinic here.

Injured were Patricia and James Johnston. They were among six persons in a car driven by Douglas M. Boyd, also of Chicago, which overturned about 7 p.m. Sunday on the Pines blacktop road five miles west of Oregon.

Patricia suffered injuries to the right leg. James received back and leg injuries.

The group was en route home from White Pines State park. Ewald Sass, 37, Byron, was expected to appear in county court here today on charges of driving while under influence of intoxicating liquor.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Dallas Twigg arrested Sass at 1 a.m. Sunday after his car hit a bridge 1½ miles south of Byron. Sass was uninjured.

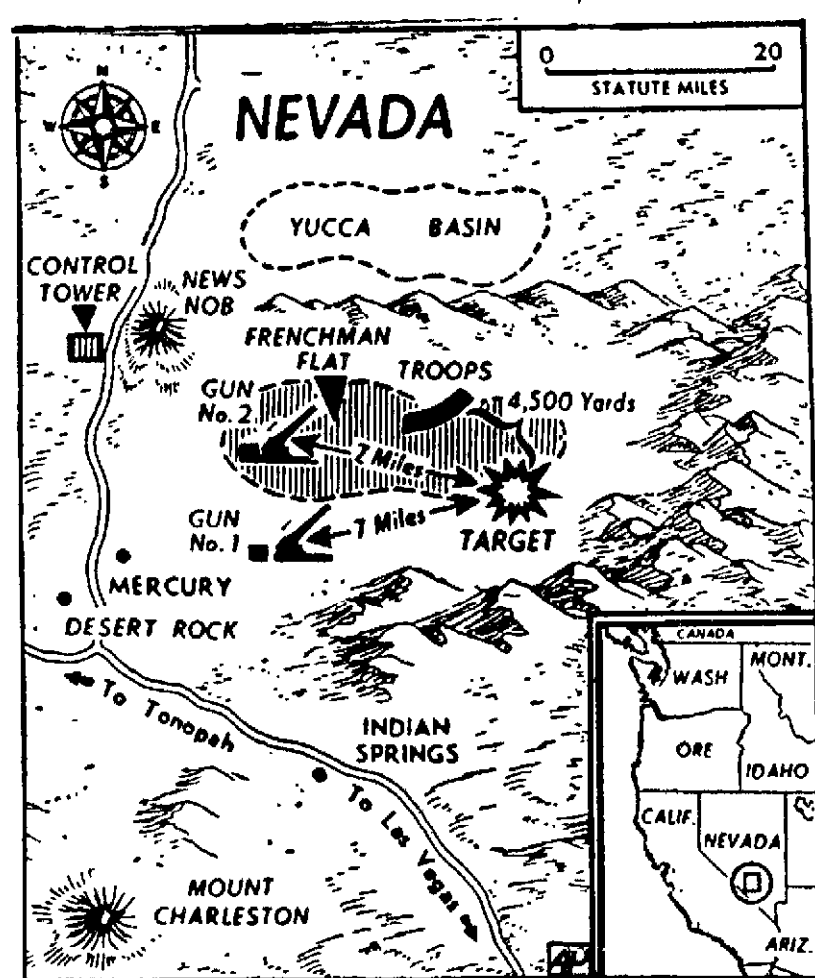

Mercury Hits 82; Humidity Reaches 90

Dixon's temperature had climbed into the 80s by noon today, while humidity here had started falling from a 90-per-cent high recorded this morning.

Forecasts called for mostly fair, warm and humid tonight, followed by thundershowers late tonight. Tuesday will be partly cloudy with thundershowers and turning cooler, it was predicted.

High temperature Tuesday is to be 84.

An 82-degree reading was recorded at noon today by weather observers at the Public Service Co. Although humidity here by 1:30 had dropped to 6 per cent, weather observers said the figure continued to represent an especially high content of moisture in Dixon air.

WHERE ATOMIC SHELL WILL BE TESTED—Map charts the location of guns, target and troops for the firing of an atomic shell in the Frenchman Flat area (shaded) of the Nevada proving grounds today. Two giant 280-millimeter guns, one of them a spare, were aimed at a target approximately seven miles away. Troops were stationed in reverents about 4,500 yards from the target. Guns, target and troops occupied the corners of a triangular shaped area. Firing was done by Atomic Energy Commission scientists using electrical power in the control tower about 10 miles distant from the gun positions. (AP wirephoto map)

Basement Gasoline Blast Burns Dixon Man Sunday

A Dixon man was treated at KSB hospital Sunday for burns suffered Sunday afternoon when fumes exploded in the cellar of his home while he was emptying gasoline from an outboard motor.

Franklin Man Arrested Here On 3 Charges

A Franklin Grove man, wanted for several months for evading arrest, was apprehended early today in Dixon by Lee county and Dixon authorities.

William Edward Easter, 31, Franklin Grove, was arrested by Lee county Sheriff Charles Redebaugh, Chief Deputy Sheriff John Stouffer, and Dixon Police Officer J. E. VanMeter.

According to Sheriff Redebaugh, Easter was under surveillance in Dixon since last night. He was arrested at 6 a.m. today.

Easter is wanted in Rock Island, Greene county, and Rochelle.

Rock Island county authorities have a warrant out for his arrest since he jumped bond last year on a charge of larceny of a motor vehicle.

Subsequent to that, he has been sought by Green county authorities for larceny of a motor vehicle.

Rochelle police have a warrant for his arrest on a charge of passing bad checks.

Easter is being confined in the Lee county jail until it is determined who will have the first opportunity to prosecute him, Redebaugh said.

Two Pay Fines In Oregon Court

OREGON—(Special)—Wayne Kimball, Davenport, Ia., was fined $10 and cost in justice court here this morning after arrest earlier on Rt. 2 south of Oregon.

Kimball was charged with speeding in a zone restricted because of highway construction operations. He was arrested by State Patrolman Frederick Pfeiffer.

Richard Blago, 30, rural Sterling, also was fined here recently after being arrested on Rt. 2 near Grand Detour.

He was assessed $100 and costs on charge of driving while under influence of intoxicating liquor. His driver's license was revoked for 90 days.

Deputy Roy Clemmons signed the complaint.

Truce Talks In Recess Until June 1

UN Allegedly Makes 'Now or Never' Offer To Break Deadlock

PANMUNJOM—(P)—Korean truce parleys resumed today amid tight secrecy and then recessed until June 1—apparently because top-level decision on the critical prisoner issue is needed.

Presumably the United Nations Command presented a new proposal at the outset of today's session, which ended an eight-day, Allied-requested recess.

U. N. interpreters could be seen through the windows of the crude conference hut apparently reading a long statement.

Hint New Approach

Washington sources had said a possible new approach would be offered on the last major barrier to an armistice—what to do about 48,500 Communist prisoners refusing to return to Red rule.

There was no inkling as to whether such a plan had been offered but—if so—the Communist delegation probably would have asked a long recess to refer the matter to higher authority.

Communist correspondents, after talking to members of their delegation, said the Allies had requested a news blackout on the session. A similar blackout was imposed in April, 1952, in an effort to iron out differences on the prisoner exchange issue.

The Red newsmen indicated disapproval of the secret sessions when they were first informed by the Red delegation at this morning's meeting. The Red correspondents did not return to Panmunjom from Kaesong for the afternoon secret sessions. The delegates met a total of about two hours, with two recesses.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, senior Allied delegate, did not hold his usual press conference with newsmen after the meeting. He turned aside all questions with "no comment."

There was speculation before the meeting that the U. N. Command would make a "now or never" effort to break the truce deadlock.

The vital issue of what to do with prisoners refusing to return to their Red homelands remained the biggest problem.

Rochelle Man Sued For State Sales Tax

OREGON—(Special)—Alvin E. Musselman, Rochelle, was named defendant in a suit filed in circuit court here over the weekend charging him with failure to pay $847 he owes the state in sales tax revenue.

Plaintiff is the Illinois Department of Revenue, which declares Musselman owes the state the money for the periods of June to December, 1948, and April to December, 1951.

Mrs. Roosevelt Attacked By Pro-Red Mob in Tokyo

TOKYO—Twenty Japanese women waving Communist banners today manhandled Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt in downtown Tokyo when she refused them an interview, the newspaper Yomiuri reported. She was not hurt.

The newspaper said that when Mrs. Roosevelt's automobile pulled up in front of the labor ministry building, the women, led by an American-born wife of a Japanese, clamored for an interview.

The ringleader of the group was identified by the newspaper as Mrs. Fujikawa, 41, born in the United States, who came to Japan before the war.

The newspaper identified Mrs. Fujikawa as a member of the Communist party.

It said that when Mrs. Roosevelt refused an interview, the women

Historic Test Made In Nevada

Signals New Era in Artillery Warfare; Wilson Views Blast

By BILL BECKER

LAS VEGAS, Nev.—(P)—The first firing of an atomic shell from the United States' 280-millimeter cannon came off brilliantly today, signaling the beginning of a new era in artillery warfare.

The nuclear shell burst 500 feet above a target of tall trees, railroad cars and military equipment on Frenchman Flat, 65 miles northwest of Las Vegas.

The long awaited shot from "Atomic Annie" apparently proved artillery experts' contention that the huge gun can handle nuclear as well as conventional ammunition.

Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson, observing the blast from a distance of less than eight miles, commented: "It was extremely interesting and I am pleased with its success."

Another observer, Admiral Arthur W. Radford, nominee for chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, said: "I considered the test a milestone in the history of atomic weapons and I am highly satisfied with the success of the test."

The shell burst produced a bright low fireball that lit up the gray peaks of the Spotted Range, ringing the flat, exactly at 11:30 a.m. (CDT). It was clearly seen in Las Vegas but was not felt or heard.

Dazzles Observers
It dazzled observers in a plane flying over Indian Springs about 23 miles away but no shock or sound was received by the passengers, including this reporter, AP Photographer Harold Filan and Pilot Woodrow McIntosh, a former Air Transport Command pilot.

The atomic cloud rose very swiftly to a height of 10,000 feet in little over a minute. When it reached a height of from 20,000 to 25,000 feet it was supposed to be pierced by two QF80 jet drones flying test missions, but that phase of the test was canceled due to unfavorable surface winds at nearby Indian Springs air force base.

Other planes in the air included 12 B36 bombers.

The AP crew, in a single-engine cabin plane, was able to fly within 15 air miles of the target area. The target area consisted mainly of a long row of trees perhaps 50 feet high, behind which were hidden many of the 15 railroad cars and various types of military housing. From the air it appeared other cars and trees were scattered distances of perhaps a mile or two from ground zero.

Less Violent
The fireball lasted perhaps eight seconds. The blast seemed to kick up less dirt than many previous atomic explosions at Nevada proving grounds. This was perhaps because of the comparatively high burst for a medium power weapon.

The customary column and mushroom formed quickly and a brisk wind soon stretched the cloud in a zig-zag fashion across the sky. The mushroom portion had broken away completely from the column by the time the AP observer plane landed at 8:55 a.m. Two long gray streaks were discernible in the distant sky.

The target area represented a typical enemy back-of-the-lines installation. In a grove of 50 trees, which survived the May 7 atomic blast, stood a 45-ton locomotive, 15

Ottawa Fete to Reenact Lincoln-Douglas Debate

OTTAWA —(Special)—The first Lincoln-Douglas debate, which attracted 10,000 people to this city's Washington park in 1858, will be reenacted in all its colorful atmosphere on the very same site as a part of the Ottawa centennial on Saturday, July 18.

The debate will also mark the 100th anniversary of Washington park, which was established by city ordinance in 1853. The park covers a square block in the heart of the city.

Site Marked

According to George C. Hupp, chairman of the debate, a gaily decorated speaker's stand will be erected over the 24-ton granite boulder marking the spot where Lincoln and Douglas clashed.

The public is being invited to bring picnic lunches and dine in the open air while a band plays old-time songs. The men chosen to play the roles of the debaters, dressed in the frock coats and stovepipe hats of the period, will be driven up to the park in horse-drawn carriages.

The public, too, is asked to join in the spirit of the occasion by wearing clothes reminiscent of the period.

Laid Ground Work

The first Lincoln-Douglas debate laid the ground work for the debates to follow at Freeport, Quincy, Alton, Galesburg, Charleston and Jonesboro.

Reenactment of the Lincoln-Douglas debate is the fifth major event of the 8-day centennial celebration to be announced. Other events include a giant opening-day parade the afternoon of Sunday, July 12, a nine-county music festival Tuesday evening, July 14, as a preliminary to the Chicago Tribune's music festival, a three-day musical pageant beginning Friday, July 17, and an all-Illinois accordion jamboree Sunday afternoon, July 19.

Northern Should Graduate 585 Teachers to Wipe Out Deficit of New Instructors

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth of a series of articles which will give a picture of the serious school problem that is facing the people of Northern Illinois now and which will increase until it reaches its peak about 1965. These articles, prepared by the DeKalb Chronicle, will describe the serious teacher shortages in the northern 21 counties and the problems that are facing the authorities of Northern Illinois State Teachers' college.)

If Northern Illinois State Teachers college should assume the responsibility of replacing one-third of the annually accumulating deficit of new teachers it should graduate 585 annually.

Replacing one-third of the deficit annually as is accumulating today would mean a huge new building program which would cost several millions of dollars. It is needed now.

Although approximately 400 students are graduated annually from Northern, some enter military service, some take graduate work and others return to previous positions, thus making the number of teachers serving the northern 21 counties a low of 225.

One-third of the annual deficiency as allocated to Northern would be 360, thus the total is arrived at of 585 annually.

In order to make the contribution to educational needs in northern Illinois as suggested above, the capacity of Northern Illinois State Teachers college should be increased as rapidly as possible to a total student body of 5,000. (150 per cent increase over 2,000, the approximate capacity at present.)

Building needs which would be required to handle a student body of 5,000 potential teachers would require an expenditure of $38,350,000 as estimated by school authorities.

While more considered surveys are needed to determine priority of projects, exact capacities and more carefully refined cost estimates, that total figure is regarded as a realistic attempt to state immediate needs for capital outlay in relation to service demands placed upon Northern Illinois by population trends in northern Illinois.

It should also be observed that the figures deal with Northern as a teachers' college. Drastic upward revision would be required, should the state of Illinois impose additional responsibilities in terms of a regional college.

The following is a summary of the building needs which would contribute to the shortage explained in above paragraphs, bringing Northern to a position where 5,000 students could be adequately housed, and educated.

1. An increased dormitory capacity of 3,000.
2. Ten (10) residence halls at $1,300,000 each.	$13,000,000
3. Student Union building.	2,500,000
4. Health and physical education building.	2,500,000
5. Laboratory school (now being planned).	2,350,000
6. Additional laboratory school.	2,000,000
7. Music building with auditorium.	4,500,000
8. Four (4) office buildings—classroom buildings.	6,000,000
9. Additional science.	2,000,000
10. New industrial arts building.	2,000,000
11. Fine arts building.	1,000,000
12. Field campus development in Taft area.	500,000
TOTAL COST	$38,350,000

Barge Right in to Win This Game

By OSWALD JACOBY

The Missouri Valley regional tournament begins today in Wichita, Kan., and will attract most of the best players in the Midwest. This region is rich in experts, most of whom bid their cards with great enthusiasm but manage to play skillfully enough to make their ambitious contracts.

As I write this description of the Midwest experts I think especially of J. G. Ripstra, of Wichita, who will surely welcome all the tournament players to his home town and will then sit down at the bridge table and try to talk them out of everything that isn't nailed down.

Today's hand shows "Rip" at his careful best in a recent tournament.

Some players would be satisfied with a part score on the South hand. Many experts would bid only three spades in order to give North a chance to get out from under. Rip's style is to barge right into game—and then find a way to make it.

West opened the seven of hearts and Ripstra, playing the South hand, won the first trick with the ace. He then led the eight of spades from his hand very casually, and just as casually let it ride for a finesse. His next step was to lead the three of clubs from his hand and play the deuce of clubs from dummy. East won with the seven of clubs much to his amazement.

East returned to hearts, and declarer ruffed the third round, only to be overruled by West's queen. When West then led another club hopefully, Ripstra was in position to win with the king of clubs, draw both remaining trumps with the ace, and then cash the ace of clubs and ruff his last club with dummy's last trump. In this way, the contract was easily made.

The play of both black suits may seem peculiar, but it was a demonstration of sound technique. If "Rip" had led the jack of spades for the first trump finesse,

West would have covered with the queen. If dummy won and returned a trump, West could lead a third round of trumps to prevent dummy from ruffing a club.

The idea of ducking the first round of clubs was to make it possible for declarer to draw a second round of trumps, then cash his top clubs, and finally ruff his last club with dummy's last trump.

CARD SENSE

Q—With North-South vulnerable, the bidding has been:

West North East South
3 Dmcls. Double Pass ?
You, South, hold: Spades J-8-7-3, Hearts Q-5-2, Diamonds 8-3-2, Clubs K-Q-4. What do you do?

A—Pass. With your flat distribution and your balanced strength you are perfectly willing to defend against the three diamond contract. You will probably collect a sizable profit, but you might easily be unable to make any contract of your own.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades Q-J-8-7-2, Hearts 8-5, Diamonds 8-3-2, Clubs Q-5-4. What do you do?

Follow These Rules and Be Truly Fascinating Woman

Someone once said, "The most fascinating women are those who can most enrich the everyday moments of existence." With that yardstick in mind, how do you women rate yourself?

One. Do you see to it that the dinner hour in your home is pleasant and cheerful? Is everyone encouraged to join in the conversation?

Two. When a trip is in the offing do you pitch in enthusiastically to get ready to go instead of wondering out loud if it is really worth all the trouble?

Three. When guests drop in unexpectedly can you enjoy their visit even though, if you had known they were coming, you would have had things looking nicer?

Four. When there is a job to be done that involves the whole family do you make it seem like fun instead of a bother and a nuisance?

Five. When a member of your family is telling you the news of his day, do you listen attentively and intelligently instead of giving one ear to the news and the other to something else?

ALWAYS FIND GOOD POINTS

Six. Do you point to the good in others whenever you can instead of looking for faults?

Seven. Can you change your plans at the last minute without letting it upset you?

Eight. Have you enough imagination to turn, what might be a dull errand, into a pleasant excursion by taking a friend along, stopping for a brief visit with someone in the neighborhood, or enjoying the beauty of the day?

Nine. Can you manage to enjoy a game or a sport that gives your husband or children pleasure even though it isn't a favorite with you?

Ten. Do you treat your husband's home-coming in the evening as the happy highlight of your day?

of testimony he takes from his briefcase several type-written sheets and begins to read a cut-and-dried opinion that didn't bear out contentions from either our side or that of the government."

Don R. Moorhead, of Austin, Tex., counsel for the girls, takes the precaution, certainly prudent but certainly not majestic, of butting up old Atwell with gratuitous obscenities before getting down to plainly implied contentions that the judge either didn't understand or didn't give a damn what it was all about. Moorhead says the girls "have the utmost respect for the learned judge" but then says Atwell solemnly sounded off on a matter that simply wasn't before the court at all. Again, the brief says the court said it could not examine the "reasonableness" of a tax and for rejoinder said: "Appellants are not seeking inquiry into the reasonableness of a tax. They are seeking a determination of its constitutionality."

Further, they say, Atwell's "opinion reflects no authorities or reasoning in support of" his conclusion that the taxes levied "are constitutional."

"Thus," the girls say in their appeal, "They will be unable to refer to the opinion of the trial court and to point out how such opinion is in error, for the matters which they will raise and discuss are in no way discussed or disposed of in the opinion of the court." They charge that Atwell's opinion did not even allude to questions which were fully argued in open court.

This is the case in which a group of neighbors foresaw that if they didn't take a stand at the start they would forever have to fish money from resentful casual household workers of limited understanding and civic spirit and forever devote many hours a year without pay to the preparation of treasury forms and the keeping of accounts. Many women have better use for their time. Some don't know how. So they reported the amounts paid their part-time maids, baby-sitters and lawn-boys but refused to steal and remit any money taken from these employees or pay any accompanying tax as employers. The treasury attached their bank accounts for petty amounts and they sued to recover, hoping to get the constitutional issue decided.

Atwell's sneer that the amount was almost too "trifling" uttered in advance of the "trial," is courteously answered thus: "Appellants makes no apologies for instituting a suit for the recovery of such a small amount ($12.57). Because of the nature of the statute in issue the amount involved necessarily must be small. The choice which confronts such an employer is either to sacrifice his principles by paying the tax or fight for his principles even though this entails filing a lawsuit for an insignificant amount."

Actually, in practical projection, the amount involved is countless billions. And the issue is whether Congress can order citizens of sovereign states to filch money from unwilling victims, and force these employers to donate money toward a highly improbable pension to such workers, under penalty of fine or jail.

He Cites "Importance and Dignity" of a Number of Refusals by Citizens to Pay Social Security Tax

Resisting the romantic temptation to glamorize their fight because they are women, I call attention to the importance and dignity of a number of rebellious refusals by courageous citizens to pay the Social Security tax. Two of their cases are now before the federal courts. A group of housewives in Marshall, Tex., popularly known as the Marshall Girls, have a case on appeal which is scheduled to be argued in the Fifth Circuit court in New Orleans on May 26.

Miss Vivien Kellems, of Stonington, Conn., a political temper and a redoubtable expert on federal taxes and the Constitution, has promised the Marshall Girls, with whom she has made common cause, to fly to New Orleans to lead aid and comfort, and doubtless to make propaganda. Mrs. Mary (Carm) of Summit, Miss., publisher of a brisk little weekly paper called The Sun, is joining the group. She has refused to pay Social Security as a self-employed person, and done all she could to get the government to put her in jail.

The beautiful Corinne Griffith, known to many of us as a movie star, has been requested to join the party. Miss Griffith, the wife of George Marshall who runs the Washington professional football club, has been campaigning around the country for absolute repeal of the income tax amendment and revival of the integrity of the states and their duty to guard their citizens against unconstitutional oppressions by the federal government. Corinne makes speeches for repeal of the Sixteenth amendment and the substitution of another amendment offered by Congressman Fred Coudert of New York limiting income tax payments to periods of "grave national emergency proclaimed by the president and concurred in by a concurrent resolution of the two 'houses' for a strictly limited time. The revenues raised under this amendment would be used 'solely for the reduction of the public debt and payment of interest' thereon.

All the girls are persistent, they nag the harrier government accountants, marshals and lawyers with sweetly logical and irrefutable contentions and there is a possibility that they will win on one or all fronts and knock out the whole parasitic socialistic monster of the Social Security fraud with ominous consequences to the treasury. Obviously millions of victims would have claims for reimbursement of billions taken illegally and strawn away on all manner of follies from Paul Hoffman's squandered abroad down to the pay of sentries to guard the carcass of F. D. Roosevelt's blameless mull. Pala, the night before the poach was put to earth at Hyde Park under conditions reminiscent of aboriginal paganism.

Miss Griffith's issue is parallel to the other cases. She is concentrating on the income tax as a whole. Social Security is part of the income tax and yet, in some incoherent government contentions, is held to be no tax at all, but a purchase of "security" by the individual "client."

In the appeal from a decision by District Judge William H. Atwell, who is 84 years old, crochety and overbearing, the Marshall Girls fawn all over him in a way that is becoming a degrading custom among lawyers fearful lest they injure their clients by standing up to such panoplied top-kicks and calling them to name. One of the Marshall Girls wrote me at the time that Atwell denied the delay with a curt note: "The amount of this suit is so small this court can hardly see it."

"He limited the argument to 45 minutes," this Marshall Girl wrote, "on a case which the government deemed important enough to send an attorney from Washington. That was bad but the old fellow added fuel to our burning inner temper when, at the close of testimony he takes from his briefcase several type-written sheets and begins to read a cut-and-dried opinion that didn't bear out contentions from either our side or that of the government."

Don R. Moorhead, of Austin, Tex., counsel for the girls, takes the precaution, certainly prudent but certainly not majestic, of butting up old Atwell with gratuitous obscenities before getting down to plainly implied contentions that the judge either didn't understand or didn't give a damn what it was all about. Moorhead says the girls "have the utmost respect for the learned judge" but then says Atwell solemnly sounded off on a matter that simply wasn't before the court at all. They are seeking a determination of its constitutionality."

Further, they say, Atwell's "opinion reflects no authorities or reasoning in support of" his conclusion that the taxes levied "are constitutional."

"Thus," the girls say in their appeal, "They will be unable to refer to the opinion of the trial court and to point out how such opinion is in error, for the matters which they will raise and discuss are in no way discussed or disposed of in the opinion of the court." They charge that Atwell's opinion did not even allude to questions which were fully argued in open court.

The Doctor Says:

Medical Opinion Is Divided On Change of Life in Men

By EDWIN P. JORDON, M. D.

A correspondent who signs herself "Puzzled" writes a sad but interesting letter which I shall quote at some length.

"My husband and I are in our early 50's. I have been going through the change of life and am pretty well along except that my nerves are still a problem. This condition is aggravated by my husband's abuse the past few years. He seems to me like a woman going through the change.

"Please tell me if this is making him as he is, as I have been told that a man also experiences a change. He is moody some days and gets peeved over trivial things. He starts arguments, and I find that I can't defend myself or get him furious at me. I have told him that he needs medical care, but can't get him to go."

It must be almost intolerable living with a man like that. He may be just naturally ornery, but it is possible that his age is also making him worse.

The question of a change of life in men is complicated, and medical opinion is divided as to whether or not there is a rapid decrease in the functioning of the sex glands in men in any way comparable to that which occurs in women. Certainly many men do not have any symptoms at all which can be attributed to it.

Some, however, do show fairly definite physical or emotional changes some time in their 50's. Feelings of tension which are made worse by excitement or fatigue are sometimes described. There is a tendency for excitement to be exaggerated and unfavorable news, arguments, or slight disturbances which would not bother a person ordinarily may cause extreme nervousness.

SEX GLAND FUNCTION

These symptoms, including quarrelsomeness, and possibly difficulty with sleeping, decreased ability to concentrate, mild depression, and the like, are perhaps—but not certainly—a associated with decrease in the function of the sex glands.

Authorities have studied the effect of injections of the male hormone—testosterone propionate—in men complaining of such symptoms as those mentioned. The value of this is still doubtful.

As one authority put it, "sex hormones should not be administered to men and women of climacteric (change of life) age with the idea of stimulating increased sexual potency; if this is the object of treatment, disappointment will result in the great majority of instances."

So They Say

No one can reasonably expect negotiations of this kind—where two sides are so far apart—to give any clear indication at the beginning.

—Lt.-Gen. William K. Harrison, chief UN truce negotiator, on resumption of truce talks.

Those people hold more conferences than a military staff.

—Sen. Richard B. Russell (D., Ga.), on difficulty of contacting Department of Agriculture officials.

We accomplished some good, hard, practical results which I think on one hand protected the interests of the United States and on the other built up the strength of NATO in which we were all interested.

—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, on recent NATO conference.

That's a premature question. But our attitude has been revealed before—that we will not (register as) subversives.

—Communist Party stand on new law.

We must maintain military strength commensurate with the danger we face until we have fool-proof, ironclad disarmament and atomic energy control arrangements with the Communists.

—Henry Ford II.

Many Honor L. E. Shellers' Anniversary

When Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. Sheller and Miss Alice Sheller, Dixon, entertained Sunday afternoon with an open house honoring their parents, the Lloyd E. Shellers, 823 Chicago rd., nearly 125 guests greeted the honorees who will celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary, May 28.

Among those attending were relatives and friends from Dixon, Princeton, Rock Falls, Sterling, Thomson, Polo, Amboy and Freeport, Ill.; Maquoketa and Clinton, Ia., and Fontana, Calif.

Several bouquets of red roses and plants, gifts from their many friends, decorated the Sheller home. The ruby, 40th anniversary color, was carried out in arranging the refreshment table at which Mrs. Sidney Lawless, Sterling, niece of Mrs. Sheller, served the anniversary cake and Mrs. C. P. Bealer, Freeport, Mrs. Sheller's sister, poured coffee. Miss Beverly Strouss, Amboy, was in charge of the guest book.

Red roses in an artistic arrangement, centered the refreshment table that was graced with a white linen cloth and three tiered all white cake. Ruby red tapers in silver three tiered candelabra and ruby mints completed the decorations.

White gardenia corsages were worn by the ladies assisting at the reception, also Miss Sheller and Mrs. Lawrence Sheller. The honoree, Mrs. Lloyd Sheller, wore a red rose corsage.

Dinner Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sheller entertained at dinner Sunday for the honorees. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Bealer, Freeport, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Dockery and Mrs. Charles Sapientza, Dixon. The Dockerys are Mrs. Lawrence Sheller's parents and Mrs. Sapientza, her sister.

A supper for the family and close friends followed Sunday's open house.

Norma Eddy, Melvin J. Haefer Are Wed

When Miss Norma Eddy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford D. Eddy, Compton, became the bride of Staff Sgt. Melvin J. Haefer in St. Patrick's church, Amboy, she wore a strapless ballerina length frock of net over taffeta, fashioned with a lace jacket. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Haefer, Amboy.

Bouquets of gladioli and mums decorated the church altars for the May 9, morning wedding. Rev. R. C. Troy officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the lovely bride wore a fingertip length veil with chantilly lace and held in place by a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book upon which rested white carnations and her gift from the bridegroom was a pearl choker and earrings.

Sister Is Attendant
Mrs. Larry Knoll, Dixon, sister of the bridegroom, as matron of honor, wore an orchid colored ballerina strapless gown with matching stole. Her headpiece and bouquet were of pale green and orchid mums. Her gift was a three-strand set of orchid pearls and earrings.

Larry Knoll, Dixon, served as best man and ushering were Don Haefer, Sublette, brother of the bridegroom, and Joe Hecker, Amboy.

Both the bride and bridegroom's mothers wore white accessories with their navy blue dresses. Red roses were in their corsages.

Reception in Hall
A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in St. Patrick's hall, Amboy. Mrs. William Archer, Compton, cut the three-tiered cake; Mrs. Don Haefer poured the coffee; Miss Faye Haefer and Mrs. Don Josten were in charge of the gifts and Mrs. Eugene Book, the guest book.

When the newlyweds departed for a wedding trip through Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Illinois, the bride donned a puckered taffeta dress with navy accessories.

DIXON'S MOST MODERN READY TO WEAR

NEW IMPROVED WAYS

To Clean, Protect and Prolong the Life of Your FUR COAT

The cold, fresh air of our modern vault will keep your fur coat in perfect condition. Not only is our vault kept at the correct cold temperature, but the humidity is regulated so that it is exactly right for furs. Excessive dryness, such as is produced in your household refrigerator, would dry the natural oils from your furs. In our vault the humidity is correct to maintain the original lustre and beauty of your coat. The dampness of summer humidity often causes mold and mildew to grow in furs of beautiful coats. Here there is no dampness to wilt your coat, no chance for mildew to harm it.

Every fur and woolen garment is fumigated before being placed in our vault. This process also destroys moth eggs so that when your coat is delivered from our refrigerated storage vault it is as sterile as it is beautiful.

Let us clean your coat, too, by our patented method employing the finest of cleaning equipment, then, in the fall we can deliver to you promptly on the first cold day, glazed beautifully with all the lustre that nature gave the wild animal that first wore the fur.

Judiciary Committee

Some opposition to the crime bill already has been heard. One objection centers against the $400,000 appropriation proposed for financing it.

The Senate Executive Committee is expected to vote Wednesday on a constitutional resolution to revamp the state's court system and make judges appointive instead of elective. The committee has held two hearings but a test vote was delayed.

Nearly a dozen bills involving the controversial subject of reducing truck license rates came up for arguments Wednesday before the House Motor Vehicles Committee. One of the measures is the Stratton-backed program, passed by the Senate, to lop off an eight million dollar increase slated for 1954.

A proposed state coal mining code tightening up safety provisions is listed for a hearing Tuesday by the House Public Aid Committee.

Another part of the governor's legislative program is expected to be submitted in the Assembly this week. It is his plan for reapportioning legislative districts so as to give Cook County more seats.

Ike, GOP Back Big Wheat Loan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and GOP congressional leaders agreed today to back legislation for a loan of a million tons of wheat to Pakistan.

House Speaker Martin (Mass.) told newsmen after he and other leaders had their regular Monday conference with Eisenhower that legislation calling for the loan will be introduced later this week.

"The need is very desperate," Martin declared.

Pakistan has suffered from a drought.

Martin said Eisenhower and the leaders also:

1. Agreed that the Senate would take up on Wednesday the President's plan for reorganization of the Agriculture Department.

2. Had some "incidental discussion" of the forthcoming Bermuda conference of U. S., British and French leaders.

Martin said the wheat loan would cut down the U. S. surplus and at the same time give aid to a deserving country.

11 Injured in 'L' Accident

Nine of the injured were taken to St. Luke's hospital where none was reported in serious condition. The others were merely shaken up.

Workmen expected to have the track cleared today.

Critics of Economy Giving False Outlook On Defense: Millikin

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Millikin (R-Colo.) dared the Democrats to make a political issue of proposed air force money cuts with the assertion today that he believes the country will back President Eisenhower's military judgment.

Millikin, chairman of The Conference of all Republican senators, said critics of a planned five billion dollar cutback in Air Force appropriations requests are giving a false impression that this would reduce U. S. air strength.

"The President has declared himself in favor of continued strengthening of the Air Force," Millikin said in an interview. "I believe the country will support the judgment of the President as to our proper air strength."

Eisenhower has asked $11,000,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1 in a program to build Air Force strength to 120 wings by mid-1955. The budget of former President Truman called for $16,788,000,000 next year and 143 wings by mid-1955.

The conference chairman noted the proposed reduction does not affect money to be spent immediately in building up what Secretary of Defense Wilson has said will be a 30 per cent increase in air strength.

Millikin said the cutback in Air Force funds for the year starting July 1 will be in money to be spent two or three years from now, with subsequent revision of plans possible.

However, Millikin's statement indicated the seriousness with which the GOP legislative command regards mounting Democratic opposition to the five billion dollar cut.

Anxious For Peace

In the overall picture of world defense, GOP sources described the Eisenhower administration as "desperately anxious" for a truce in Korea. An influential Republican in Congress, declining to be named, said the administration's domestic popularity may hang in the balance at Panmunjom, where truce talks are resuming.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, jumped into the fray Sunday with a statement that he sees nothing in the world situation to "justify a slowdown or a stretchout of our preparedness program."

Specifically, Johnson said he doesn't believe any large cut in air strength can be justified, adding in a broadcast to Texas radio stations:

"If these reductions are put into effect, we can only hope and pray that no mistake has been made, hope and pray that no enemy will strike—that we will be in a position to defend ourselves if an enemy should strike."

Backing up Johnson's statement, were such Democratic senators as Hunt of Wyoming, Henry Jackson of Washington and Holland of Florida.

Pravda Editorially Favors Big 4 Meet, Not Big 3 Talk

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW —(AP)—The Soviet Union's latest major statement on foreign policy has made it plain the Kremlin strongly believes in a Big Four conference but just as strongly opposes Big Three talks which don't include the Russians.

The Soviet expression came in a full-page Pravda editorial Sunday. The Communist party organ:

1. Condemned President Eisenhower's plan to meet with Prime Minister Churchill and a new French Premier. Such a meeting, said Pravda, means a continuance of Western "collusion" against the Soviet Union and "can bring about the further heightening of the tension in international relations."

Approve Churchill

2. Generally approved Churchill's proposal for talks by the top East-West government leaders and particularly that "Churchill, unlike other statesmen of the West, does not tie up his proposal . . . with any preliminary obligations for one or the other side."

3. Blasted American demands for further Soviet action as a preliminary to any East-West meeting.

4. Called for settlement of the Korean War and the German question to "prepare the soil" for solution of other world issues. Pravda said Germany should be reunified but that a "revival of German militarism" must be prevented.

Rocky Marciano Has Dinner Date With President

CHICAGO (AP) — Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano said today he has accepted a White House invitation to dine with President Eisenhower June 5.

"I was informed of the invitation about three days ago when they received a telegram back home (Brookline, Mass.)," Marciano said. "I was so excited I forgot to ask who signed the telegram. It's a luncheon with the President and senators and congressmen who are going to play a softball game, I think."

Williams was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Sterling Schrock.

Charles S. Murtaugh, 1005 W. First st., paid a fine of $25 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct.

Murtaugh was arraigned before Schrock following his arrest Sunday by Dixon Police Officers Wilson and Lorenzen at his home.

Texan, Belly Dancer Reunite

CAIRO, Egypt — (AP)—Grinning happily, Abdullah Sheppard King said today he and his belly dancer wife, Samia Gamal, are reconciled. Samia, also smiling, nodded her approval.

They were united in Samia's apartment for the first time since the Texan arrived in Cairo Friday.

This morning Sheppard visited Samia.

Samia had said earlier she was determined to divorce the Texas oil heir because she was not happy with him. He flew here at once to check up.

Expect New Record for '500' Race

INDIANAPOLIS — (AP)—Barring bad weather or wrecks that slow the pace, the winner of next Saturday's 37th annual 500-mile auto race should put a new speed record in the Indianapolis Motor Speedway books.

The 33 starters averaged almost a mile an hour faster than last year's record-smashing field in qualifications that ended Sunday.

Only nine of last year's starters made over 135 miles an hour in the 10-mile time trials, nineteen of this year's field bettered that speed. The overall average is 136.435, compared with last year's 135.504.

Troy Ruttman, out with an injury this year, set a record speed average of 128.992 for the 500 miles last year.

Bill Vukovich of Fresno, Calif., who qualified May 17, won the $1,000 extra prize for the top speed of 135.392.

Most Speedway fans rate Vukovich as the man to beat in this year's race, after leading most of the 1952 grind until his steering gear failed. He'll start in the No. 1 spot.

Bill Holland, the 1949 Indianapolis winner, came back Sunday after two years' absence and qualified a new 500-B series Kurttis-Kraft, the Crawford Special, at 137.588.

The 45-year-old Holland has a first and three seconds to his credit for four Indianapolis starts. The American Automobile Association suspended him before the 1951 race for competing in an unsanctioned race and reinstated him last winter.

Hubert died April 22, 1953, in KSB hospital. He had been a resident of Dixon since appointment to the Borden managerial post in 1936. He retired in 1945.

He received early experience in the cheese business working for his father, a partner in an independent cheese firm which later was sold to the Borden company.

He was a charter member and past president of Kiwanis club and past master of Elisha Kent Kane Masonic lodge, both of Neenah, Wis., and a member of the Dixon Shrine club and Tebala Shrine temple, Rockford.

He was a World War I veteran, serving in the navy, and in 1951, he was a member of the Lee county Selective Service board.

Anything Can Happen in The Air; Ask Stewardess

By HAL BOYLE

LONDON AIRPORT—(AP)—People are uncertain enough when they are on the ground. But get them up in the air—and anything can happen.

"That is why, although the air age has lost much of its glamor, the international air stewardesses wouldn't trade their jobs for a secretary's desk."

"You can never tell what people will ask you to do," said Kay Landing, "Once Gorgeous George, the wrestler, wanted me to help pin up his curls."

Kay and Evelyn Conlon were stewardesses aboard the Pan American Stratoclipper in which I flew here to attend the coronation.

Britons Leave Cairo; Fear For Violence

CAIRO, Egypt — (AP)—Forty British women and children left Cairo by plane for London Sunday night, escaping from the threat of possible British-Egyptian violence in tense, troubled Egypt.

The evacuees were families of 16 employees of the British Shell Oil Company and imperial chemical industries. The men remained behind with their jobs.

Citing the deterioration in Anglo-Egyptian relations over continued British occupation of the Suez Canal zone, the British Embassy has advised the 4,000 British civilians in Egypt to leave the country if they have no pressing business here.

British officials say they are afraid of a repetition of

Dixon Keeps Tennis Title: Third in Golf

Henry Utley Wins NCIC Singles Title

Dukes Score Nine, Rochelle Second With Six Points

STERLING — The Dixon high school tennis team remains champion of the North Central Illinois conference.

Led by Henry Utley who mowed down three opponents in straight sets to become conference singles champ, the Dixon squad scored nine points to six for second place Rochelle. Sterling with 2 points was third and Ottawa with 1 point was fourth. DeKalb, which sent one player, failed to score.

Utley lost only six games in winning his three matches for the singles title. He stopped Jack Kingma, Rochelle, 6-0, 6-0, and won the first set from Jim McIntyre, Ottawa, 6-0, before dropping his first game. However, Henry won the set, 6-2. In the third match, for the title, Henry tumbled Jim Schuler, Sterling, 6-0, 6-4.

Joe Cushing won his first singles match, a three game affair from Dick Trowbridge, Rochelle. Cushing lost the first set, 2-6, but went on to win the next two, 6-4, 6-0. Cushing bowed to Schuler in the semi-finals, 6-1, 6-3.

Rochelle's Galen Kruger and Tom Hornsby took the doubles title after beating both Dixon doubles teams. After drawing a bye, the Kruger-Hornsby doubles duo topped Norm Glenn and Bob Bay, 6-0, 2-6, 6-2 and then went on to defeat Bennie Sage and Joe Jones in straight sets in the finals, 6-1, 6-3.

Bay and Glenn gained the semi-final spot by topping Sterling's Leon Neese and Jim Smith, 9-7, 6-3. Sage and Jones defeated Terry Smith and Berry Burke in the first round 6-2, 6-0 and then took Burley Smith and Charles Reints, Rochelle, 9-7, 9-7.

Illini Battles For Big 10 Tie

CHICAGO (AP)—The Iowa Hawkeyes, their own Big Ten baseball title chances wrecked over the weekend, were in position today to mess up those of Illinois.

The two teams play the final game of the conference season at Iowa City today.

By winning, Illinois would tie with Michigan for the crown, repeating their co-championship of 1952. A loss would drop the Illini to third place, behind Iowa.

Michigan guaranteed itself a share of the championship by beating Northwestern twice Saturday, 3-2 and 5-3. That left the Wolverine record at ten wins and three losses.

Both Illinois and Iowa lost their chances for undisputed titles by splitting doubleheaders, Illinois with Minnesota, Iowa with Ohio State.

Illinois dropped a 14-inning opener 1-0 and took the second game 5-4. Iowa beat Ohio State, 10-2, then lost, 2-1.

Illinois went into day's game with nine wins and three losses. Iowa had won eight and lost three.

Dixon, Amboy Graders Take Thirds at Sterling

Dick Haas Scores All Oregon Pts.

Dixon Hurt by Loss Of Two Dash Men Injured in Meet

STERLING — Dixon's grade school heavyweights and Amboy's lightweights took thirds in the Sterling Invitational grade school meets Saturday.

In the heavyweight meet, the Dukes finished third with 29 points behind Sterling and Freeport. The Dukes were hurt considerably when John Wooten and Tom McCann both pulled leg muscles and were unable to run at top form. Oregon with 14 points, all scored by Dick Haas, was fourth and Amboy with 11 points was sixth.

In the lightweight division, Amboy's state champion team scored 20 points to finish third behind Princeton and Freeport. Dixon with 17½ points took fourth in the meet, barely beating out Rock Falls which had 17½ points.

Bill Sanford won the only Dixon heavyweight first that counted as he took top honors in the discus, setting a new record with a toss of 136' 3½". Dixon 880 relay team won its event, but it is a new event and did not count in the scoring.

Two other heavyweight records were set, in the broad jump, by Rogers, Maquokata, and in the 220 yard dash, by Haas, Oregon.

Four records were set in the lightweight class, in the 50 yard dash by Hoppins, Princeton; in the 100 yard dash by Hoppins, in the discus by Doan, Princeton; and in the 220 by King, Sterling.

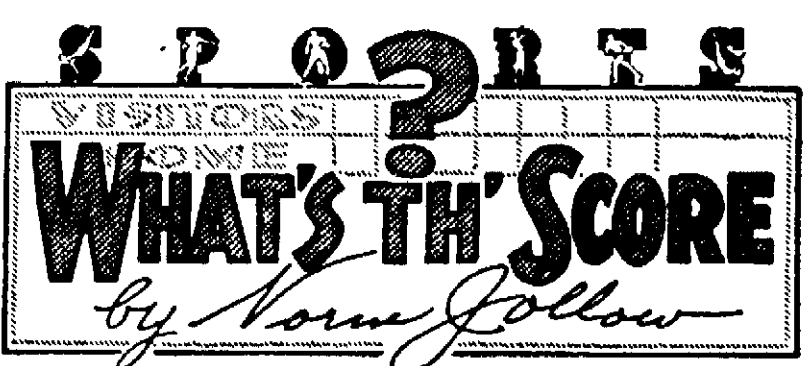

Roscoe Cox led the Dixon heavyweights with three seconds after John Wooten and Tom McCann pulled up lame in the meet. But Cox wasn't able to carry the load alone and the young Dixon cindermen fell by the wayside after leading in the meet until the last two events.

Dick Haas, Oregon, won two events, the 100, 220 and took second in the hop-step and jump, to score all of his team's points.

Heavyweight scoring: Sterling 39; Freeport 31; Dixon 29; Oregon 11; Maquokata 12; Amboy 11; Clinton 10; Rock Falls 3; Princeton 1. Lightweight scoring: Princeton 41 5/6; Sterling 30; Amboy 20; Dixon 17½; Rock Falls 17½; St. Mary's Sterling 8; Morrison 5 5/6; Clinton 3½; Maquokata 3; Freeport 2.

The summary:

HEAVYWEIGHT
50 yard dash—Won by Marshall (S); 2, Cox (S); 3, Rogers (M); 4, McCann (D); 5, Wooten (D). Time—26.1.
100 yard dash—Won by Haas (O); 2,

IN SPITE OF COACH PAUL HAMERSMITH'S pessimism, the Dixon tennis team went out to win the North Central conference tennis crown again and win it they did.

IN CLOSING OUT THE SEASON, the Dukes won eight matches, lost three, finished third in the district and topped the NCIC. Not a bad season for a team that numbers only one senior and one junior.

The Dukes will lose Bennie Sage, lone senior. But back next season will be Joe Jones, junior; Utley and Norm Glenn, sophomores, and freshmen Bob Bay and Joe Cushing.

DIXON'S HEAVYWEIGHT GRADE SCHOOL TRACK TEAM, favored to win the Sterling Invitational track meet, ran into a string of bad luck Saturday morning when the two top dash men, John Wooten and Tom McCann, pulled up with bad legs.

Wooten had pulled a leg muscle in the city grade meet earlier and then aggravated it in the preliminaries of the 50-yard dash. He managed to run the finals of the 50 and take fifth place and then he entered the broad jump where he took a third. But in the 100-yard dash, he pulled the muscle in his leg badly and was unable to finish.

McCann pulled the muscle of his leg in the 100-yard dash finals and was unable to finish the race.

BOTH OF THESE BOYS had finished one-two in the 50-yard dash and the 100-yard dash at Dixon in a triangular meet with Sterling and Rock Falls earlier in the season. In the 50-yard dash, Sterling took both first and second. Had the Dixon boys been able to run, they might have taken the meet.

THE VARSITY TRACK TEAM closes out its season tomorrow night at the Sterling relays which were postponed from April 24 to May 26 because of rain.

Six teams were scheduled to run in the meet, but LaSalle, Peru and Freeport have dropped out because of other commitments. Morrison was brought in as one replacement and the meet will be run off with just five teams: Dixon, Sterling, Rock Falls (defending champions), Moline and Morrison. First event is set for 4:30 p. m.

Dodgers Score 12 Runs in 1 Inning Before Man Out

By The Associated Press
Who said Philadelphia is a dead town on Sunday? The Brooklyn Dodgers think it's gayer than Paris, louder than Coney Island and wilder than an office Christmas party.

When you score 12 runs in an inning before a man is out, as the Dodgers did Sunday the eighth at Connie Mack Stadium, no town is dull.

All this muscle flexing gave the Dodgers a 16-2 victory that still left them in fourth place in the merry National League race where the mileage from first to fourth is only one ball game.

Braves Lead
Milwaukee took over the lead Saturday and still clung to a half game margin after Sunday's split with Chicago, winning 5-4 and losing, 5-2. St. Louis elbowed into second on Gerry Staley's five-hit shutout of Cincinnati, 2-0, and the New York Giants belted Pittsburgh, 11-3, snuggling only 2½ games off the pace.

Johnny Sain pitched and batted the New York Yankees to an 8-4 triumph over Boston.

Chicox Third
Cleveland, after its twin scores over St. Louis, 5-1 and 9-8, moved into second place. Chicago remained 17 percentage points behind Cleveland, after beating Detroit for the second day in a row with a ninth inning spurt, 3-1. Washington nosed above .500 by knocking off Philadelphia, 6-3.

The big excitement was at Philadelphia where Augie Donatelli had almost as much exercise as the Phillies pitching staff. Augie opened the day by tossing out Russ Meyer in the fourth after the hot tempered Mr. Meyer made violent protest of a pitch call and threw the resin bag into the blue sky. Jim Hughes, who failed as a relief man for Meyer, and Billy Loes were chased for heckling Augie from the bench.

STERLING — Rock Falls' golf team surprised Rochelle by winning the North Central Illinois conference golf title Saturday and Dixon added to the surprise by taking third place, 17 strokes out of second.

Coronation Seats Bring $165 Apiece

LONDON (U)—Choice seats along the coronation route sold for up to $165 apiece today — with many still on the auction block — even as holiday crowds converged on this metropolis for a preview of the royal pageant only eight days away.

Seat prices looked steady after a slight decline about two weeks ago. Seats still offered were mainly in the top price bracket and included champagne, television and in some cases overnight accommodation as well as a view of the procession.

Carnival gaiety held sway in old London this Whitmonday, a national holiday in Britain that thousands of foreign visitors turned into an international festival.

Queen Rests
Queen Elizabeth II, whose big day is June 2 when she will be formally crowned, was out of the city, resting with her family at Windsor.

But even with the royal family away, Buckingham Palace was a mecca.

Many came in family groups, carrying picnic baskets and camping for hours in the golden sunlight just to watch the colorful changing of the palace guards.

Congressional Demos Turn Down '54 Convention Idea

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional Democrats have signalled thumbs down on a proposed 1954 national convention lest it split their party just ahead of senate and house elections.
Southern Democrats generally are in a mood to boycott such a convention if it is held and some of their Northern and Western colleagues agree it would be a political experiment fraught with unusual dangers.
They believe it would revive the cooling civil rights controversy and spotlight other differences among party members.
Although committees appointed by National Chairman Stephen A.

Mitchell have yet to report, a cross-section of opinion among Democratic senators showed most of them opposed to the convention idea.
Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), the party's 1952 vice presidential nominee, took a more lenient attitude toward the suggestion than some of his colleagues.
He said a Democratic conference, as opposed to a convention, might be all right. But he expressed no liking for a meeting replete with platform and other political trimmings of the presidential-nominating convention every four years.

"It would be all right for us to get together and jack up the Republicans but I see no need for adopting a platform since members of congress generally run on local issues and not on a national platform anyway," Sparkman said.
Paul M. Butler, Indiana national committeeman who brought up the 1954 convention idea, suggested it could bring the 1952 platform up to date and speak "with a single clear voice" for the party.
Mitchell said he was "sympathetic" and proceeded to appoint study committees.
Sen. Stennis (D-Miss.) said he wants nothing to do with any such convention.
Sen. Hunt (D-Wyo.) said he thinks there would be a lot of controversy over any efforts to bring the national platform up to date.

Begin Inquiry Into Air Crash At St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board has begun an investigation into the crash of an unscheduled cargo plane trying to make an instrument landing in fog with one of two engines crippled. Six of seven persons aboard were killed.
Fred G. Powell, Chicago, chief of the CAB's Region 3 Bureau of Safety Investigations, came here to head the inquiry.
The crash early Sunday was the first major one at Lambert-St. Louis airport in 10 years. Ten persons, including Mayor William Becker, were killed in an Army glider crash in 1943.
As the plane, a DC3 bound for Oklahoma City from Teterboro Airport, N. J., neared St. Louis, the pilot radioed "I got one engine, coming in for a landing."
Airport personnel verified the message and alerted the field's crash crew.
The plane made one attempt and apparently was turning for another when one wing touched the ground. That threw the plane against the earth and it skidded about 180 feet. There was no fire.
The lone survivors was John Swart, 32, Haskell, N. J., a cembalist. He and those killed were employees of the Meteor Air Transport Company and were taking an air-plane engine to Oklahoma City. Swart was reported in serious condition with cuts, bruises and a punctured lung.

Say Farewell To Historic N. Y. Theater

NEW YORK (AP)—A sentimental salute was paid Sunday night to the historic Empire Theater when hundreds of stars and others associated with Broadway gathered there to say "good-bye."
The Empire—when John Drew, Maude Adams, all the Barrymores, Helen Hayes, Ethel Waters, Sarah Bernhardt and scores of other famed names of the stage played some of their most memorable performances—will be torn down after this week. A skyscraper will go up in its place.
The farewell program included Edna Wallace Hopper reenacting the role of Ann in "The Girl I Left Behind Me," a role she created when that play opened the Empire on Jan. 25, 1893.

Sisters Fatally Injured in Crash

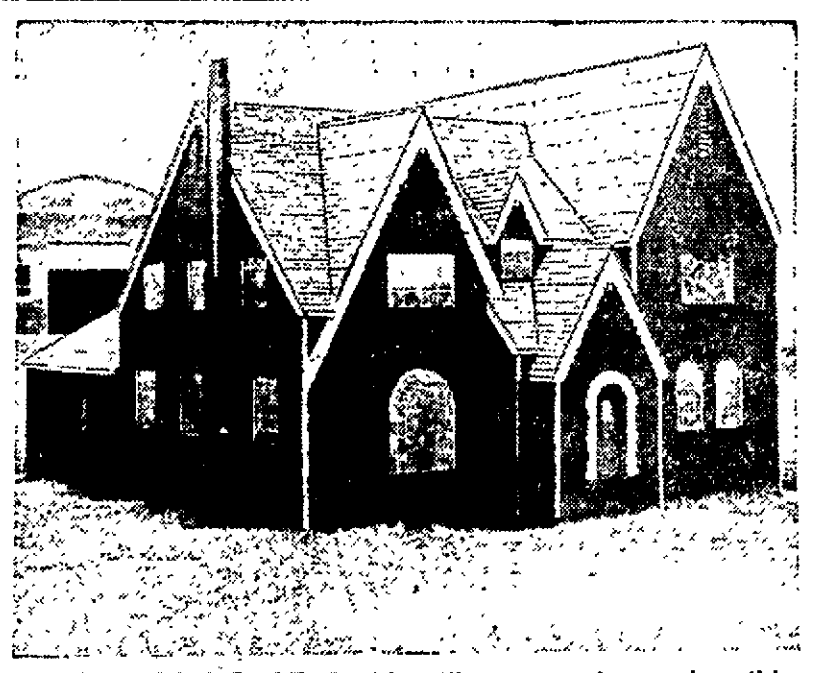

PEKIN, Ill. (AP)—Two Marshall, Ill., women were fatally injured and their husbands were critically hurt in a head-on collision of two automobiles Sunday night on Route 121 about 10 miles east of Pekin.
The dead, sisters, were Mrs. Helen Coyle and Mrs. Esther Claypool, both about 50.
Their husbands, brought to Pekin Public Hospital, were Carl Claypool, 61, and Reginald Coyle, 51.
The driver of the other car, Hershel Smith, 18, of Rt. 3, Greenville, Ill., also was injured. He is a Bradley university student.
The blazing wreckage of the two automobiles blocked traffic for more than an hour.

Indian Population Has Small Growth

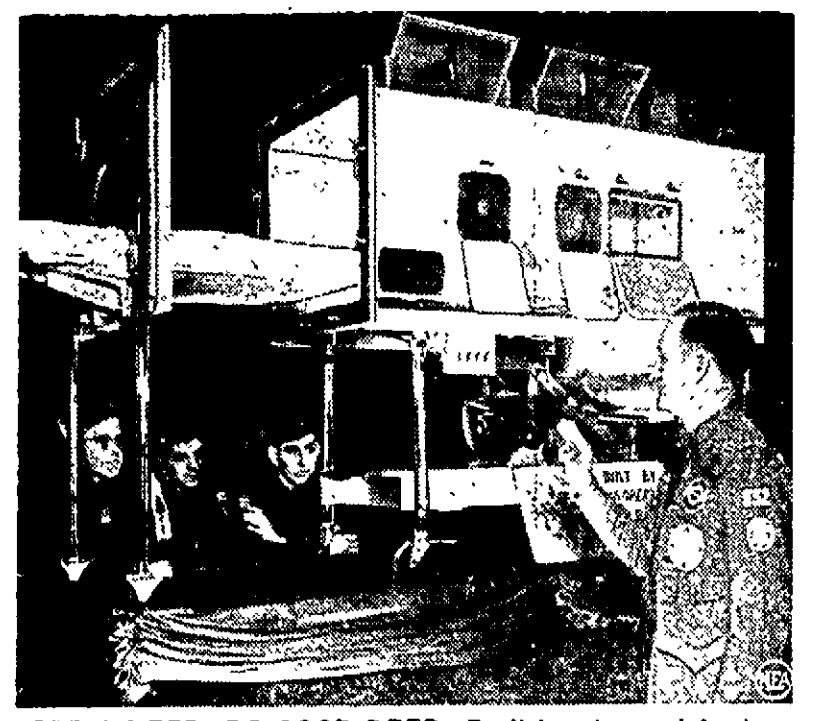

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census bureau says the U. S. Indian population has grown about 4 per cent since the turn of the century—but it is not quite sure what an Indian is.
In a report, based on the 1950 census and issued Saturday, the bureau said there were 343,410 Indians then, compared with 237,196 in 1900.
For the most part, it said, Indians were those living on reservations where blood lines have been preserved fairly pure.
But a spokesman said enumerators put a person down as an Indian if he looked like an Indian. When in doubt, they were supposed to ask.

LAND HEAVE-HO—This bird's-eye view shows some of the 125 bulldozers used to clear and grade a 16-acre, 16-acre factory site in a two-day whirlwind operation. Eighty companies used $3 million worth of equipment to do the job that normally would take three to four weeks. Eight field superintendents bossed the operation, using walkie-talkie radios.

DOGGY DOG HOUSE—Looking like someone's mansion, this impressive structure is actually a dog house. The exterior is an exact replica of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schields near Goodland, Kansas, and cost them $1000 to build. The occupant is a shepherd dog named "Lady," who is currently mothering her seven new pups.

SEE A NEED: DO GOOD DEED—Realizing the need for iron lungs throughout the country, Boy Scouts in Chicago got together and built one. Here three of them and their leader look over their handiwork at a display of Boy Scout activities in Chicago. After the American Medical Association approved it, the boys gave the iron lung to a local fire department.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE
JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Exclusively Yours: Jane Wyman's following in the dramatic footsteps of Colleen Moore and Barbara Stanwyck in Hollywood's third remake of Edna Ferber's famous novel, "So Big," but she isn't worried about disturbing the sands of time. "It was a great role and it's still a great role," says Jane.

"I know acting comparisons will be made but I'm not worried. Our screenplay has taken news things out of the characters that were never used before. The role is more challenging to me than 'Johnny Belinda.'"

A television series for Jane now that all the big stars are becoming home-screen attractions? "I've got news for you," she smiled. "Television is NOT for me."

There's an eye-popping parallel to the front page papa-and-son wangles of Edward G. Robinson and Eddie Jr., in "Showdown," the forthcoming U-I flicker that will co-star the elder Robinson and Tony Curtis.

Robinson will play a wealthy man and Tony will be the wild son who spends money recklessly, falls in love with a girl of whom papa disapproves and tangles with his old man over and over again. Hummm.

Elliot Nugent's pals are begging him to seek psychiatric care and blame his front-page didos on a case of jangled nerves. His estranged wife and daughter have been asked to help him.

HE SHALL RETURN

Shelley Winters, slated to return to the screen in "Tacey Cromwell," is turning over the new crop of hints that all is not well between her and absent-in-Italy Vittorio Gassman.

"I talk to him every week," Shelley, down to 135 pounds, told me at U-I's "Walkin' My Baby Back Home" press party. "Let them gossip. I'm not going to 'schlep' myself to Italy just to stop the talk. He'll be back in April."

Spoke Jones' hotly singer, Laverne Pearson, mixing an opera offer:

"I prefer the smell of Spike's gunpowder to that of garlic."

Zippy dialog department: Chill Wills, on the set of "Three Were Renegades," about one of his recent films: "The camera-man shot the back of my ears until I came out looking like a loving cup with hair."

Producer Sol Lesser hasn't started the big ballyhoo, but Stereo-Cine, the three-dimensional process he's using on his "3-D Follies," will be an eye-opener. It's the best easy-on-the-eyes 3-D I've seen yet. The Eastman color film will be billed as the first musical revenue in 3-D, with everything from Lili St. Cyr, and the Lester Horton Dancers to Ben Hogan and Gussie Moran.

FAIR TRADE

Bzoo Pinza, packing 'em in at a Las Vegas nitery, read the crowd this telegram:

"If you insist on singing in our upholstered saloons, I shall sing Figaro at the Met." It was from Jimmy Durante.

It may be only a coincidence, but Lana Turner and Lex Barker will be in Cannes for the Film Festival when Aline Dahl and Fernando Lamas are there. . . Phyllis Kirk, femme star of the 3-D "House of Wax," left Warners to free-lance and next day had offers for four films and three TV series. . . Alex D'Arcy has joined Gilbert Roland in the BIG comeback league. He's in "Man On the Tight Rope" and "How to Marry a Millionaire" after living for eight years in France.

Red-haired Cara Williams is so determined to keep her marriage to John Barrymore, Jr., out of stormy waters that she's broken off relations with her own mother!

"My mother has been the cause of all the trouble so far," she confided. "The barroom scenes couldn't be nicer. Ethel invited us to dinner and kissed me. I talked to Lionel over the phone. Dolores Costello, Johnny's mother, has been wonderful to me."

Cara's on the stardom ladder herself as Red Skelton's leading lady in MGM's "The Great Diamond Robbery," but she's sure that nothing will stop her young husband from reaching the heights of his famous father.

"Hollywood doesn't have to have any doubts about Johnny's acting ability," she told me. "The trouble is that he's been shuffled around too much. He'd have had no problem if it hadn't been for his father's name. He's entitled to take a little longer to get there because of that."

Stabs Woman At Ball Game; Beaten by Mob

NEW YORK (U-A) A 32-year-old man fatally stabbed his woman friend at a Central park baseball game Sunday, then was savagely beaten by enraged players and spectators. The man, Edward Cartagena, was saved when mounted patrolmen intervened and guarded him until the arrival of police radio cars and an ambulance.

Cartagena's victim was Carmela Olivo, 32, a widow described by police as his estranged common-law wife. Detectives said the woman was with her sister in the crowd of 1,000 watching two Puerto Rican teams play. Witnesses were quoted as saying Cartagena appeared with a six-inch knife and attacked Mrs. Olivo. She sought to flee but was cornered at the backstop. Cartagena, who was treated for cuts and bruises of the head at Knickerbocker hospital was booked on a charge of homicide.

Auto Strike Eases as Budd Co. Workers Return to Jobs

DETROIT — Settlement of a strike at the Budd Co., supplier of auto body stampings, today provided the first break in a wave of layoffs that has crippled a large segment of the automobile industry.

Some 44,000 Chrysler Corp. employees idled by the Budd walkout were expected to be back on their jobs within a day or two.

However, two other supplier strikes, at the Canton, O., plant of the Ford Motor Co. and at Warner Gear Co. in Muncie, Ind., kept thousands of other car production workers idle or on short shifts.

The Budd strike, resulting from a jurisdictional dispute between units of a CIO United Auto Workers Local, was called off Sunday on orders from the UAW International.

At a mass meeting of the strikers, International union officials reprimanded the men for their action and told them to end the walkout or there would be "appropriate action by the International."

The strikers then voted to go back to work.

Chrysler said its DeSoto plant could resume operations on today's second shift, and added that it would try to have Chrysler, Dodge and Dodge truck divisions operating by Tuesday morning.

Ford completed the layoff of 85,000 workers, a move started last week because of a lack of parts from the strikebound forge plant at Canton.

The Warner Gear strike affected production at Studebaker, Willys, Nash and some General Motors plants.

Studebaker's 23,000 production workers began working a 20-hour week. The employees, members of the UAW, voted to shorten their hours rather than see half their number laid off.

Ford declined to reply during the weekend to a UAW request for meetings on revision of the union's contract in a manner similar to the plan worked out last week with General Motors.

River Crest Will Strike Gulf Town

LAKE CHARLES, La. — Three flooding rivers aimed their muddy crests at the Southwest Louisiana coast today, threatening a town of 2,000 and oil fields 40 miles south of here.

This city of 50,000 was still choked with floodwaters of the receding Calcasieu river, which left 15,000 homeless and 15 million dollars damage here. Health officials were vaccinating for typhoid, but no cases were reported.

While Lake Charles and its submerged air force base got ready to mop up, the little town of Cameron, on the coast, braced for a water assault at the mouth of the Calcasieu.

The U. S. weather bureau here, in a warning Sunday predicted water up to three feet in Cameron's streets within 48 hours.

For 40 miles along the coastline, the marshes are filling up with high waters from three rivers.

The weather bureau said the Calcasieu crest was rolling southward from Lake Charles through Calcasieu lake and on toward Cameron.

The Sabine river, forming the Texas-Louisiana border 30 miles westward, is shoving up high water in the extreme southwestern tip of Louisiana.

Seize Huge Opium Haul in Singapore

SINGAPORE — Singapore customs agents today seized 1½ tons of raw opium, described as the biggest haul ever made in the colony.

Valued at more than 1½ million straits dollars ($112,250 U. S.), the dope was found hidden beneath a truck load of firewood. Eighty-two canvas-wrapped tin containers each containing 40 pounds of opium were found, smelling strongly of fish.

Report Gen. Dean Has Operation for Appendicitis

TAIPEI, Formosa — A Nationalist-Chinese news agency said today U. S. Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, a Korean War Prisoner of the Communists, had undergone an appendectomy recently in Peiping.

However, in Berkeley, Calif., the general's wife said he "had his appendix removed six years ago." She said she had received a letter from him dated April 6 from a North Korean prison camp in which he said he was well.

The China Press, which specializes in news from the Red China mainland, said Dean was taken to Manchuria on April 16 and later to Peiping.

Cabin Cruiser Overturns, 2 Are Saved

ALTON, Ill. — Rescue workers saved from drowning a mother and 6-year-old daughter, trapped in a capsized cabin cruiser in the Mississippi River near here Sunday night.

Four other persons aboard the boat were thrown into the water and were rescued also.

The mishap occurred in a section of the river northwest of Alton known as Alton Lake.

The cruiser struck a log and turned over.

The girl, Janet Buschhorn, of 7215 Cranston drive, St. Louis, was unconscious when pulled from the boat but was revived on shore. Trapped with her was her mother, Mrs. Rudolph A. Buschhorn.

Thrown from the boat were Mrs. Buschhorn's husband; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Mattingly of suburban Overland, Mo., and their son, Robert, 15.

The girl and her mother were taken to St. Joseph's hospital at nearby St. Charles, Mo. The party was returning from an outing in the 16-foot, homemade craft.

Bomb Homes Of Negroes In Cleveland

CLEVELAND — For the second time in five days, there has been an attack here on the homes of Negroes living in neighborhoods where whites also live. No one was hurt.

The latest incident was a bombing, before dawn Sunday, of the home of Rev. Smith E. Ware, 48, a former minister of a Barberton, O., Baptist church.

The blast of dynamite shattered five plate glass windows, pushed radiators from the walls, twisted a downspout, snapped a pipe connected to an organ blower motor and buckled part of the foundation.

The dynamite also were after Ware's next door neighbor, Lee V. Malloy, also a Negro. But the fuse on the bomb they put on his porch was faulty and the bomb didn't explode. However, the blast at Ware's house smashed 27 window panes in the Malloy residence. In a neighborhood just two miles
